TriZetto Healthcare Products on Microsoft Azure
Leveraging cloud technology to create agility, efficiencies and cost savings

Fundamental technology shifts, combined with changing business and end-user expectations, are forcing healthcare IT leaders to transform the way they deliver IT.

New digital solutions are assisting healthcare companies to proactively respond to changing market dynamics and business imperatives, evolving industry standards and ever-changing government regulations.

Migrating to the cloud is becoming a preferred option for many healthcare organizations. As they see the benefits of scale, agility, and speed, the question health plans need to consider is no longer whether or not to migrate, but how to optimize a solution and manage risks.

Combining Cognizant’s industry-leading TriZetto Healthcare portfolio with Microsoft Azure’s intelligent cloud platform allows for solutions that address the industry’s current pain points while paving the way for future innovation. Our goal is to help our customers completely rethink traditional IT models, allowing them the flexibility required to be successful in today’s competitive healthcare environment.

Agility is a core benefit of a cloud-based infrastructure. With TriZetto Healthcare Products on Azure, organizations can utilize rapid provisioning and micro-service architectures to quickly enhance digital capabilities. New environments can be easily added to your existing ecosystem. The Azure cloud provides the ease of scalability that healthcare organizations demand.
