The need of the hour?

As AI adoption accelerates, the density, diversity, and distribution of Infrastructure is evolving - expanding the attack surface. Cognizant's cross technology-stack integration and expertise help you safeguard critical data and drive secure growth in the AI era

Business Resilience (BRaaS) as a Service with Cognizant Secure360 addresses this evolving need by providing a unified, end-to-end business resilience platform. Rather than focusing solely on data, BRaaS safeguards the outcomes and processes that are critical to our clients' success. Organizations gain the ability to recover their business, not just their information helping to minimize financial impact, regulatory risk, and operational downtime.
