

Customer success story

Mobile app for a leading worldwide coffee chain

Migration to AWS cloud accelerates time to market by 50% and enables a more efficient, secure enterprise.

The challenge

The client lacked sufficient controls over sprint cycles and the code of its mobile app. It was looking for a partner to assume end-to-end responsibility—from hosting, monitoring, and maintenance of its application to the development of downstream services and integration layers.

The solution

Cognizant transitioned the existing mobile app, including code, middleware, services, integrations and existing DB instance to the AWS cloud. We began by migrating our client's infrastructure to a customer-owned and Cognizant-managed AWS cloud infrastructure.

To avoid downtime, we supported a risk-averse, 10-month long transition composed of seven trial sprints and mock deployments. This gave ample time for testing and verification. During that time, Cognizant stabilized the application, improved the security standards, ADA compliance and its overall performance.

Reduced TCO and increased efficiency

The business now has a more efficient, reliable and secure enterprise, with an easy to maintain tech stack that will support it in the future.

40% reduction in TCO

50%+ increase in time to market, catering to business priorities instead of the product backlog

10%+ increase in traffic on digital channels
