

COGNIZANT HEALTH TRANZFORM™ SOLUTION

As the healthcare industry shifts from fee-for-service to value-based care models, healthcare organizations are looking for new ways to deliver consumer-centric care leveraging digital communication and access. The focus is on engaging and empowering consumers to make more informed decisions about the cost and quality of their care, while simultaneously looking for new ways to drive operational efficiency.

Cognizant has a vision for providing a 360 degree digital awareness to help healthcare organizations see higher performance through engagement, price transparency, collaboration and network intelligence. Cognizant Health TranZform, currently under development, is a SaaS-based multi-channel, modularized solution, which facilitates outcome-based collaboration across the digital healthcare ecosystem.

Solution Investment

The engine behind TranZform that enables healthcare stakeholders to easily interact across the care continuum is the digital integration layer. The digital integration layer orchestrates bi-directional, complex transactions, data and communications by connecting to multiple systems of record such as payer core systems, provider EHR systems, physician practice management systems, etc. to deliver secure, de-identified, contextual data, from each interaction stakeholders have within the healthcare eco-system.

TranZform supports digital strategies by:

- Providing a market-enabling, digital healthcare network, that connects healthcare stakeholders
- Supporting an ecosystem that enables the connection of third-party capabilities
- Composing a personalized stakeholder experience

As the industry's future unfolds, Cognizant and TriZetto provide the technology, services and solutions to help you succeed in today's competitive marketplace, while transforming to meet tomorrow's challenges.

Together, Cognizant and TriZetto are making better healthcare happen.
