Cognizant® TriZetto® Optimization Software Products

In a constantly changing healthcare environment, healthcare organizations need tools that will automate, standardize and support data management processes to drive greater administrative efficiency and help maintain data integrity.

The Cognizant® TriZetto® Optimization Software Products suite includes value-added applications designed specifically to automate the IT administrative processes associated with core operating systems. These include migrating and managing configurations, creating and using test data, controlling security data and improving the auto-enrollment process.
